

Demands Made By Journey-men Barbers. THE BOSSES TAKE A STAND. OPPOSE PLAN TO DIVIDE CITY INTO DISTRICTS.

OBJECT TO EARLIER CLOSING. Opposition to the Contemplated Advance in Prices Is Not So Pronounced. PUBLIC APT TO BE THE LOSER.

"It is the sentiment of this meeting that no master barber in the First district shall sign any agreement for 1902 until the last meeting of the master barbers this year, which meeting will be held on Monday or Tuesday, December 29 or 31."

In fact, one of the bosses mistook a writing reporter for a journeyman barber, and what he said before realizing his mistake was enough to lead an unprejudiced observer to think that the journeymen might "strike and be damned."

Why Bosses Object. The bosses say the objections to the scale are simple and logical. One of the chief objections is aimed at the districting of the city. It is all union, the bosses say, and among all union shops the same scale should apply.

Prices a Minor Matter. The scale of prices is a minor disagreement. The bosses say that the journeymen have no right to threaten to charge five cents additional for neck shaves and fifteen cents for seafoams.

STRONG CASE

Made Out Against Ex-Patrolman Hanlon.

PRISONER ON THE STAND.

TELLS A MUCH MIXED AND VERBOSE STORY.

STATE'S SURPRISE FOR TO-DAY

Expects To Shatter Alleged Alibi of Defense With One of Prisoner's Witnesses.

WITNESSES AS TO CHARACTER.

The trial of George Hanlon, charged with the murder of Police Corporal Fred Richterkessing, was completed yesterday afternoon, except in so far as rebuttal testimony may be introduced by the Commonwealth.

Hanlon's two defenses are lack of motive and an alibi. The only motive shown by the Commonwealth is that he had been twice reported for neglect of duty by Corporal Richterkessing, but the prosecution has woven a strong web of proof about Hanlon to connect him directly with the crime.

In line with this the Commonwealth's theory is that Hanlon mugged his 730 post on the night of the murder, and that upon being told by Corporal Richterkessing that he would report him he killed Richterkessing.

Hanlon's only witness to an alibi is James P. Scanlon, of 922 Fifth street, bookkeeper of Guilfoyle & Simons. Mr. Scanlon testified that Hanlon passed him at his residence, 922 Fifth street, at 7:45 p. m. and 7:50 p. m. on the night of the killing.

It is said that the Commonwealth has ascertained that no express package was sent that night to E. A. Guilfoyle, and this fact is being used to tend to show that Mr. Scanlon is mistaken about the night he saw Hanlon—that it was not the night of the murder.

The trial will be resumed this morning at 9 o'clock, at which time the jury will be taken to the scene of the murder and following this the Commonwealth's rebuttal testimony, if any, will be introduced.

Mr. James J. Fitzgerald will open the argument for the defense. Mr. Norton E. Goldsmith, in connection with the Commonwealth. Mr. J. T. O'Neal will close for the defense and Commonwealth's Attorney Joseph M. Huffaker for the State.

Hanlon's Story Mixed.

On the opening of court yesterday Hanlon testified that he was the defendant still claims to him, and while he gave a mixed-up story, he was at all times honest. His testimony did not differ materially from that given in the former trial, but he was far more verbose and argumentative.

Under speaking of his official connection with Richterkessing and stating that he bore no ill-will toward him, he said that he met Richterkessing at 7:30 p. m. at 812 North Broadway on the night of the murder.

Hanlon said that he then went to Fourth avenue and took a car to C street. There came Hanlon's remarkable story that he had been drinking when he knew that it might, and in all probability, would cost him his position.

Hanlon denied having had any intention of entering Col. Hanger's office. Hanlon said that after leaving the monument he met Officer Day and that they had a drink at Ken's saloon. He claimed that he left Day's saloon about four o'clock.

Hanlon said that he then went to Sixth street and Broadway and that he had a drink at Ken's saloon. He said that he had been drinking when he was arrested.

Hanlon said that he had been drinking when he was arrested. He said that he had been drinking when he was arrested.

way about 7:30 p. m., or it may have been later. They were talking and laughing. Kelly said that the heard Charles Wingfield, colored, tell some policemen at Seventh and York streets about 11 p. m. that the man "who did it" had on a light overcoat and an alpaca hat, and that he ran out sixth street and into the alley. Kelly did not know what Wingfield was talking about.

Patrolmen Barry and Kinnealy testified that they called on Hattie Busy a day after the murder, and that they heard the officer, and after they had passed Broadway he heard some one say "he had on a long overcoat and went up the alley."

Stenographer John P. Cassidy then read the testimony given by Mrs. Joseph Cunningham at the trial. She was standing near the doorsteps of her residence, 623 West Broadway, when the shot was fired and she saw the man she saw a negro run by going west.

Fergus Kennedy, Serg. John Daiton, Officer Nally and Sgt. Avery were all additional character witnesses for Hanlon.

Some Immaterial Testimony.

The testimony of Joseph S. Cunningham, Sr., of 210 West Broadway, was wholly immaterial. Mr. Field stated to state that he saw two negro boys at the scene of the murder and that they said they knew nothing of the killing.

Charles Jasper was in his mother's grocery at Sixth street and Broadway when the shooting occurred. He ran to the front door and saw Officer McCauliffe running across the street. He saw no one on the southeast corner.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Dr. J. A. Stucky, one of the leading physicians of Lexington, will address the men's meeting at Music Hall tomorrow afternoon at 8 o'clock. He will speak upon the subject, "The Devil's Anaesthetic."

On New Year's night a banquet will be given in the gymnasium to the members away from home. Last New Year's a similar banquet was attended by over two hundred young men, and it is expected that even a larger number will be present this year.

Under the direction of Dr. Mechlign, the Juniors will take a "skate" this morning. The party will leave the association building at 9:30 o'clock and will go by street car to the park.

On account of Mr. McNair's absence from the city, the gymnasium men's Bible class will be omitted to-night. Mr. McNair will be in the city on Monday for a meeting of the General Secretaries' Executive Committee.
